In regards to the PSSE, I find the information is adequate for finding the site as suitable for a repository. With the depth and the low amount of rainfall to carry contamination to local water sources at a minimum, keeping the danger negligible at this time, the Yucca Mountain Site is the best possible area in the whole of the U.S. for this function.

I believe that the Secretary should proceed to recommend the site to the President so far as regulations are met.

There are no reasons that the President should prevent concluding that the site is qualified.

If the site is not used then, in my opinion, there is no other place to be used as a repository because there are no other areas in the United States that has such a low population coupled with low ground water and stability requirements.
